believes in miracles. She was born with a rare condition called Amniotic Band Syndrome, which generally causes death in most babies before they are ever born. She knows that it a beautiful blessing she survived and wants to show the world that her scars are not a punishment, but instead are a wonderful expression exemplifying God's love and mercy for her life. She believes God spared her for a reason and wants to spend her life telling of the hope and love God placed inside of her.

In 1988, the promise of a publishing company was conceived in the heart of a 17-year-old girl. Twenty years later in 2008, ShadeTree Publishing was born and officially licensed as a business.

BIRTH OF SHADETREE PUBLISHING

ShadeTree Publishing is owned and operated by David and Jennifer Minigh. David earned a doctorate degree in chiropractic and has been writing professionally since 2008. Jennifer has a doctorate degree in biomedical science. She has been writing professionally for over 10 years and has nearly 200 publications in the field of science and medicine.

David and Jennifer started a medical writing company from scratch in 2004. This company grew rapidly and comprised many well-known clients in the medical field. After four very successful years, they decided to use their gifts and talents for God instead, so they sold the writing company and started a Christian publishing company – hence the birth of ShadeTree Publishing.

The first two years of the new business were spent developing procedures. ShadeTree Publishing's first books were written by Jennifer under the penname of Beyr Reyes. This was done in order to formulate and refine the process from submission to sale before leading outside authors through it. Currently, ShadeTree Publishing has eleven authors and has won twelve Book of the Year awards.
